

Truman Sends Defense Pact To Senate As 'Step To Peace'

Washington, April 12 (P)—President Truman sent the North Atlantic defense treaty to the Senate today with a request for its approval as "one step on the road to peace."

In a message, Mr. Truman said the treaty deals with the "realities of the situation we face today." He also said it is set up "within the terms of the United Nations' Charter and the constitution of the United States."

"This treaty is only one step—although a long one—on the road to peace," the President declared. "No single action, no matter how significant, will achieve peace. We must continue to work patiently and carefully, advancing with practical, realistic steps in the light of circumstances and events as they occur, building the structure of peace soundly and solidly."

Signed Last Week

The treaty was signed here by 12 nations on Monday of last week. It pledges them to aid each other in event that one of them is attacked by an aggressor.

To become binding on the United States, the treaty must receive the Senate's ratification. That means approval by a two-thirds vote.

Administration leaders are confident that the Senate will eventually ratify it, but a long debate is expected once the treaty reaches the Senate floor.

Lions Shown French 'Thank You' Train Gifts Sent Here

Gettysburg and Adams county's share from the box car of the French "Thank you" train that is being distributed throughout Pennsylvania was on display Monday evening at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club at Trinity Reformed church.

The articles, given by the people of France in appreciation of the food donations sent them on the Friendship Train from the United States, will be placed on exhibition soon in a local show window and then will be placed permanently in the museum of the Adams County Historical society in the court house.

The local Lions were sponsors for the collection of more than five tons of food in this area for the Friendship Train. Attorney Donald M. Swope, chairman of the club's Friendship Train committee, recently wrote officials in charge of distribution of the "Thank You" train goods asking that the local club be given articles from the train for a permanent exhibit here.

Red Bud And Deer Appear On Battlefield

Mother Nature is beginning to dress up the Battlefield for the influx of visitors from many states and many lands, according to Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent.

The Red Bud blooms are beginning to burst and by this week-end there will be a goodly portion of the blossoms scattered all over this historic shrine. The height of this bloom will be sometime during the following week.

Then will come the Dogwood to again brighten the avenue lanes and hillsides. These will be in full bloom in about two weeks.

A number of deer and their sprightly fawns are scampering over the field again to the delight of early visitors. They seem to fully realize and appreciate the protection afforded them on government ground.

CHARTS TO OPEN THURSDAY FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Reserved seat charts for the Lions club Minstrel show to be given at the Gettysburg high school April 21 and 22 will open Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the Shetter House. It was announced Monday evening at the weekly dinner meeting of the club at Trinity Reformed church.

Ticket Chairman Fred G. Troxell announced several hundred general admission tickets for the charity benefit performance already have been sold by club members.

President D. E. Hess presided at the meeting with 104 members and guests in attendance and George H. Wirt, retired founder of the Mont Alto state nurseries and first head of the forestry school there, as the guest speaker.

Says Timber Famine Unlikely

The Lions took under consideration a proposal to take the Gettysburg high school 60-voice choir to the state Lions convention at Philadelphia in June. A decision likely will be made on the convention plans next Monday.

Mr. Wirt, who served for 47 years with the state Department of Forests and Waters discussed the economic and aesthetic values of forests to their owners and to the communities in which they are located. He said that forestry as a business and profession has been practiced longest and most successfully in Germany and Switzerland and that forest preservation moves in this state date from the land grants by William Penn. Penn provided that for every five acres of land cleared of forests, one acre was to be left in woodland. Benjamin Franklin warned of the dangers of a "timber famine."

The speaker expressed the opinion that modern forestry methods have made the chance for a national or state timber famine very unlikely but emphasized the importance of interest by businessmen in the promotion of good forestry practices in their communities. He made brief references to pending state and national legislation aimed as "socialization" of forest lands.

LOCAL SCHOOLS TO OPERATE ON DAYLIGHT TIME

The executive committee of the joint board of the Gettysburg school system Monday night agreed to "go along" with daylight saving time, but made it plain that while the school system would "conform to, it does not approve of, daylight saving time."

Members recalled that the convention of school board directors last fall voted in opposition to the change in time for the summer months; but at the same time they held that "if everyone else is going on daylight saving time, there is nothing we can do but conform," as Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, superintendent of schools pointed out.

Dr. Ralph D. Wickerham, president of the board, added that "several years ago when parts of the county were on daylight time and others on standard time, things were in a mess; it has to be one way or the other." Other board members said that since other communities in the state are going on daylight time there is little to do but conform with it.

Discuss School Budget

The committee took official action on only a few things at Monday's session, devoting much of the time to a preliminary discussion of the school budget for presentation at the full meeting of the joint board in May.

It was indicated that the full board may discuss the possibility of new school construction next month. Doctor Keefeauver reported that "it is understood" that the school au-

The Agriculture department said it has modified its recommendation on the use of DDT on dairy cattle, but explained this was "merely a precautionary measure."

"There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of DDT contamination," the statement said.

Even the word "Easter" is ancient. It comes from Eostre, beautiful pagan goddess of Spring once worshipped throughout Europe.

To delight children long ago, legend declares, Eostre magically changed her pet bird into our familiar Easter Bunny. That's why Mr. Hippety-Hop builds bird's nests and lays colored eggs.

The one fatality last month, although within the jurisdiction of the Gettysburg substation and investigated by the local officers, occurred in York, rather than Adams county. James F. General Devers To Be July 3 Speaker Here During 86th Battle Anniversary Observance

GENERAL DEVERS

SAYS WARNING WAS AIMED AT WILD SHOOTING

State police of the Gettysburg substation explained today that a recent statement relative to target shooting was aimed at the promiscuous shooting of firearms, rather than at targets placed against a protective barrier.

Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, in charge of the substation, said that police had received numerous calls from members of sportsmen's clubs and others who feared that the recent warning meant they could not shoot at targets.

"A lot of people think they must stop shooting at targets," Sgt. Duhrkoff said today. "That wasn't the intent at all."

Received Complaints

"We received a number of complaints relative to property damage from promiscuous shooting. That was the reason for the warning. By that we mean shooting at random, at tin cans set on a stump or post, at birds or at objects floating in the water."

"These practices are dangerous. Bullets travel long distances and jeopardize lives and property. Bullets may strike rocks and ricochet," the officer said.

The sergeant said target shooters should find a natural barrier, or build one to prevent bullets from ricocheting or going beyond the target.

"We don't want anyone to get hurt or possibly killed," he added. "This was the reason for the warning." Persons who do not observe rules of safety when shooting will still be subject to arrest and prosecution.

Firemen To See Two Films On Wednesday

The regular April meeting of the Gettysburg fire department will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the fire engine house, to be followed by the showing of another fire-training picture, "More Dangerous Than Dynamite," and a cancer film. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Worley, Littlestown R. 2, announce the birth of a son Sunday at the Hanover hospital.

General Jacob L. Devers, chief, Army Field Forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va., will be the principal speaker on the program for Sunday, July 3, in observance of the 86th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

This was announced today by Col. William G. Weaver, chairman of the military affairs committee for the five-day celebration of the battle anniversary and Independence Day, sponsored by the Gettysburg Fire department. Col. Weaver said he had received a letter from General Devers definitely announcing that the four-star general would be here on that date.

Gen. Devers will be accompanied by several military aides. Further information on the time of his arrival and other details will be announced later. Col. Weaver said. The Army Ground Forces band from Ft. Meade will also take part in the Sunday program, which will be held at some place on the battlefield, probably in the National cemetery.

Col. McKenney To Be Marshal

Col. Weaver also announced today that Col. Alfred E. McKenney, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college, will be the grand marshal for the parade of military units, civic and fraternal organizations, fire companies and floats on Monday, July 4.

During World War II, Gen. Devers was in command of the Sixth Army Group. He directed the operations of the U. S. 7th and the First French armies in their drive from the beaches of the French Riviera to the Rhine river and into parts of Germany.

Prior to assuming command of the Sixth Army group, Gen. Devers was deputy supreme commander of all allied forces in the Mediterranean theater and commanding general of American troops in the North African theater of operations.

Spoke Here In 1946

As commanding general of the Armored Force from August, 1941, until May, 1943, Gen. Devers activated, trained and equipped 12 armored divisions and numerous tank battalions which constituted a large part of the strength of this new branch of the American army.

He received his first star as chief of staff in Panama. When the United States acquired new outposts in the destroyer swap with Great Britain, he was appointed senior army officer on the board to select sites for army and navy bases. Following this he was named commanding general of the Ninth Infantry division at Ft. Bragg. His nomination as four-star general was approved by Congress on March 30, 1945. He has many decorations.

General Devers was the principal speaker at ceremonies on the football field at Gettysburg college at the observance of Adams county's "home-coming" day on V-J Day in 1946.

FBI AGENT SAYS HE CHECKED CIO

New York, April 12 (AP)—An undercover FBI informant in the Communist party testified yesterday he also had been reporting to Federal agents on the activities of a CIO union since joining it a month ago.

Herbert A. Philbrick, the government's surprise witness at the Communist conspiracy trial, said he checked on what was going on in the ranks of a Boston local of the CIO United Office and Professional Workers of America.

The nature of his reports was not revealed.

The UOPWA, reversing a previous stand, asked its officers last November to sign non-Communist affidavits so it could participate in a National Labor Relations Board election.

The union, which supported Henry A. Wallace for President last fall, has been assailed within CIO ranks for "left-wing" activities.

Try to Break Story

Philbrick, a 33-year-old Boston advertising executive, said members of the UOPWA asked him to join the union. He testified he then was drafted to aid the union in an organizing drive among employees of the Hancock Life Insurance company.

Philbrick's reports to the FBI on UOPWA activities were brought out during cross-examination at the Federal court trial of eleven top Communist leaders on charges of conspiracy to teach and advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

Defense lawyers continued efforts to break down the story of the witness, who was a Communist member in good standing until he took the stand last Wednesday to tell of nine years' undercover work for the FBI.

Truman Sends

for the Senate Foreign Relations committee to hold hearings. The hearings will give opportunity for the backers and critics of the treaty—outside of Congress—to express their views.

Throughout Mr. Truman's appeal for Senate approval of the pact ran the theme that neither the United States nor any other nation can achieve peace independently.

Mr. Truman said that this nation has determined to do everything possible to insure that peace is maintained in the knowledge that "we cannot escape the great responsibility that goes with our great stature in the world."

It was for this reason, he continued, that the American people accepted the United Nations Charter in 1945 and have sought since to make it "a more effective instrument."

Working for Peace

He cited, too, the European recovery program as a move "important to the prosperity and peace of our country and the world."

His message went on: "The North Atlantic Treaty is further evidence of our determination to work for a peaceful world."

"It is in accord with the action of the Senate last June when it signified its approval of our country's associating itself in peacetime with countries outside the western hemisphere in collective arrangements, within the framework of the United Nations Charter, designed to safeguard peace and security."

Mist Applicator Secured By Lab

A recent addition to the equipment of the Pennsylvania State college research laboratory at Gettysburg is a mist applicator which will be used in experimental work in the spraying of orchards.

The applicator is a modern apparatus which, as one of the laboratory's staff of scientists expressed it, "Smacks of the future." It injects insecticide liquid into an air stream. The machine generates 8,000 cubic feet of air per minute. The air moves at the rate of 125 miles per hour.

The use of the machine will mean that less insecticide will be used and that the work can be done much more quickly. Both the entomology and pathology departments of the laboratory will use the apparatus.

POLICE SCOFF 'KIDNAP' CASE

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 12 (AP)—Kidnaping of a five-year-old youngster for $33,000 was reported today to police, but Chief C. H. Anderson branded it an attempt by the father to "get publicity."

"It looks like one of those deals," said Anderson. "My theory is that he wants a lot of publicity to satisfy gambling debts."

The boy, blond Joey Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goodman, was released unharmed after his mother said she paid over the $33,000. In his hand was an envelope containing $1,000.

Anderson said he considered that Goodman, "by the publicity," hoped to convince his debtors that he couldn't pay out a large sum of money.

"If this were a case of kidnapers," the chief declared, "there would be no money returned." The chief identified Goodman, 40, as a "known gambler," and said he is an ex-prizefighter from Norfolk, Va.

He said Goodman was arrested in November, 1945, on suspicion of robbery at a Los Angeles gambling house. Twelve others arrested at the time, Anderson said, included Mickey Cohen, Harry Rothman and Paulie Gibbons. Rothman was assassinated last fall in Cohen's haberdashery shop. Gibbons earlier was slain gangland style.

TWO MORE WARD OFFICIALS QUIT

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—Sewell Avery—the grey-haired, hard-driving boss of the nation's second-largest retail merchandising firm—today was confronted with another blow up in his top management group.

And this time the eruption came within two weeks of the annual Montgomery Ward and Company stockholders meeting. Avery himself is up for re-election as a director at that meeting, scheduled for April 22.

Two more vice presidents resigned from the battle-scarred company yesterday. One hinted broadly that Avery had broken his promises to attempt to bring some stability to the dissension-torn management group. There were rumors that at least one more vice president would quit.

Control of the top management group in control of the company a year ago only Avery and Vice President Albert Steffey are left. Ten top men have got out. It was over Steffey that the resignation rumors were flying.

The crash of Ward's executive personnel is virtually without precedent in recent American business history, particularly for a company which is rolling along with record sales and earnings. It all revolves around the 75-year-old Avery.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Atlanta, Ga., April 12 (AP)—Joe McCarthy is talking more freely to southern sports writers as he takes his Red Sox home to Boston, but he actually isn't saying much more than last year. . . . Naturally there's a lot of interest here in Big Walt Dropp, who played for Birmingham last season, and Billy Goodman, a former Atlanta star. . . . If Dropp doesn't make good at first base, Goodman likely will get the job. . . . But the Red Sox manager won't commit himself too far. "Dropp looks like a sticker; he takes coaching and is a real smart youngster" Joe comments. . . . As for Goodman, Joe let himself get enthusiastic once to this extent: "There's a player who could get up on New Year's morning and be ready to play." . . . Ted Williams, who claims he's shooting for the batting title rather than the home run championship, sometimes seems more interested in good fishing spots than in either crown. "I plan to drop a line into several spots along the St. Johns river in Florida next spring," says Ted. "I hear the bass fishing is terrific there."

Original members of the circuit include the VFW, Texas Lunch, Glenn L. Bream garage, Dave Oyster Motors, Lentz legion, Dorsey-Stanton legion, Elks and Moose.

According to plans set up Monday evening the league will open Monday, May 9, and all games will be played on the new recreation field near the corner of Breckenridge and Franklin streets. Two seven-inning games will be played each evening, the first game starting not later than 6:20 o'clock. Games will be played each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The first four teams in the league standing will stage a round robin playoff for the title at the close of the regular season.

All rosters are to be submitted to President Knox by May 8 and the rosters become final 30 days later.

Another meeting of league officials will be held Tuesday evening, April 26, in the recreation room of the bank.

RIGHT OFF THE COBB

O. B. Keeler, Atlanta's beloved dean of golf, likes to tell about the time he took Ty Cobb to a tennis match. . . . A player thought the umpire had erred in giving him a point and "threw" the next one. . . . After explaining the situation, Keeler asked: "Ty, what would happen in a ball game if a man slid into second in a cloud of dust and was called safe and then he got up and argued that he should be out?" . . . The belligerent Cobb replied: "There'd be three sudden deaths. The umpire would drop dead; the manager would die of apoplexy—but before he died he'd take a bat and knock that player's head off."

DOTS ALL BROTHERS

Jimmy Dykes insists he still can live up to his reputation for being talkative. "But it's fourth-hand talk. Aren't there three coaches ahead of me on this club?" . . . Word from North Carolina is that the big four college baseball games are drawing more professional scouts than spectators. . . . The Louisville Courier-Journal's Tommy Fitzgerald figures spring officially arrived when Leo Durocher was tossed out of an exhibition by an umpire. Says Tommy: "Leo saw his first robbing."

Westlake Looking Good For Pirates

Birmingham, Ala., April 12 (AP)—Wally Westlake, husky outfielder who was sniffing the trade winds with apprehension a year ago, may provide the answers to the Pittsburgh Pirates' pennant hopes.

Westlake has been hitting the grapefruit league pitchers as if he owned them and he's always been a dependable man in the outfield. Manager Billy Meyer says "this is Westlake's year" and if the sophomore Buc manager is correct it could easily be "the Pirates' year."

In 69 trips, Westlake has compiled a 406 batting average. That's second only to Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald who has hit .435 in 24 appearances.

Meyer, of course, doesn't expect Westlake to continue his torrid pace. The Buc skipper will be well satisfied if Westlake hits .300 or better. Something he's failed to accomplish in his two seasons with the Bucs.

Coffee consumption in the United States now averages more than 17 pounds per person, including children.

grapefruit league pitchers as if he owned them and he's always been a dependable man in the outfield. Manager Billy Meyer says "this is Westlake's year" and if the sophomore Buc manager is correct it could easily be "the Pirates' year."

In 69 trips, Westlake has compiled a 406 batting average. That's second only to Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald who has hit .435 in 24 appearances.

Meyer, of course, doesn't expect Westlake to continue his torrid pace. The Buc skipper will be well satisfied if Westlake hits .300 or better. Something he's failed to accomplish in his two seasons with the Bucs.

PICKS BOSTON AS AMERICAN LOOP TITLIST

By JACK HAND

Orangeburg, S. C., April 12 (AP)—It looks from here like the Boston Red Sox over the Cleveland Indians in a two-club race for the American League pennant.

New York and possibly Philadelphia have a look-in on the big prize but the Red Sox and Indians carry the heavy guns. Detroit needs plenty of breaks to figure in the race and St. Louis, Washington and Chicago are in over their heads.

The Oct. 2 finish (not guaranteed): 1. Boston; 2. Cleveland; 3. New York; 4. Philadelphia; 5. Detroit; 6. St. Louis; 7. Washington; 8. Chicago.

A year ago most American league owners feared a Boston runaway and hoped the Yanks could make it a race. Cleveland, with all its veterans having their best years, upset the apple cart.

Now the Yanks, with Joe DiMaggio still the big question mark, are an uncertain factor. Boston and Cleveland are the teams to beat.

If the Red Sox get consistent pitching they have the power to break the race wide open. The big bats of Ted Williams, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr pack a tremendous wallop.

Joe McCarthy, starting his second year as Sox manager, figures to get more pitching help from Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris, who were of little value last season. Jack Kramer, Joe Dobson and Mel Parnell form the nucleus of a pretty fair staff. Hughson can make all the difference if he pitches up to his spring form.

Cleveland should get much better pitching than the Sox from Bob Feller, Gene Bearden, Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek. Manager Lou Boudreau, the "player of the year" in 1948, fields the best infield in baseball unless veterans Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon should slip.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

High School News: The scholars of the high school have been practicing long and faithfully for the drama, "Out on the Streets," to be given in Meade high school building on Friday evening. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged. It is said to be a very pretty play and will be equally as interesting as the entertainments of other years.

Marriages: Brighton-Treet—April 11, at McSherrytown, by Rev. P. P. Hemler, Charles P. Brighton, of Mountpleasant township, to Miss Alice M. Treet, of Conowago township.

Crone-Kempe—April 11, at New Chester, by Rev. Corus E. Held, Bert Albert Crone, of Tyrone township, to Miss Annie R. Kempe, of Hunters-town.

Geesey-Sherman—April 6, at Littlestown, by Rev. L. A. Mann, John A. Geesey, of New Oxford, to Miss Sarah E. Sherman, of Mountjoy township.

Lookenbill-Mollison—April 4, at New Oxford, by Rev. P. E. Heimer, Daniel Lookenbill, of Hamilton township, to Miss Eleanor Mollison, of Abbottstown.

Rummel-Eckert—April 5, in this place, by Rev. T. J. Barkley, J. Emory Rummel, of this place, to Miss Nettie G. Eckert, of Cumberland township.

Wildasin-Moul—April 11, at Hanover, by Rev. J. A. Metzger, Geo. S. Wildasin, of Conowago township, to Miss Ella K. Moul, of Hanover.

Spangler-Topper—April 6, in this place, by Rev. A. R. Steck, John W. Spangler to Miss Annie L. Topper, both of this place.

Pretty Wedding: The marriage of Rev. C. Brown Cox to Miss Cordelia E. Spangler took place Wednesday evening at Asheville, N. C. It was a quiet, but pretty wedding. The bridegroom's father, the Rev. George H. Cox, read the beautiful Lutheran ceremony.

No invitations were issued and only the council of St. Paul's Lutheran church and a few intimate friends attended.

Canning Factory Prospering: The Gettysburg Canning factory will be run this year by John C. Lower, ex-Sheriff Wm. B. McIlhenny and P. A. Miller.

They expect to can a large amount of peas and corn during the coming season. About 125 bushels of peas, for seed, have been given out and about 30 bushels of seed corn.

Quite a market has been created for the product of this company and their goods have sold well. Last season 2,500 dozen cans of corn and 4,000 dozen cans of peas were put up and disposed of at good prices.

Local Miscellany: According to the president's orders all the flags on the battlefield and the flag in the National cemetery, were at half-mast on Thursday, when the bodies of 336 dead heroes, who died in Cuba and Porto Rico, were interred in the Arlington cemetery at Washington, D. C. On that day all the departments of the government at Washington were closed in the afternoon.

"The Boston Stars" gave a good performance in Xavier hall Monday evening. Another entertainment was given Tuesday evening.

J. W. Pettis, produce dealer, shipped a car load of eggs, containing 10,000 dozen, to Philadelphia, Monday night.

Signs of the Times: The news that the 10,000 employees of the Carnegie Steel company are to receive an average increase of ten per cent in wages, is only one of the gratifying signs of general industrial prosperity. Raises in the pay of labor are being reported from all the industrial sections of the country, in nearly every branch of manufacture.—Phila. Bulletin.

Personal Mention: Mrs. Rebecca Dickson Long, of Philadelphia, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Martha Dickson, at Hunterstown.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE THING AT HAND

It should be the wish of us all to accomplish each day the most for which we are capable. This cannot be accomplished by worrying over a mass of details, or disparaging our ability to go ahead, but by doing the best that we know, and getting the fullest satisfaction and joy out of it at the same time.

Here is a quotation from Carlyle that has helped me many a day. He said: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." A simple statement, but full of meaning. If we clean up as we go we will go far.

It's confusion that takes the efficiency out of so many of us. We wonder where to start. We reach over into too many tomorrows, and allow too many yesterdays to drag us from doing the right thing at hand. One thing at a time, too—and that one thing done as best we know. Then there is sure to be progress, and a sense of satisfaction that always accrues from systematic effort.

My hat is off to the plodder, who sees his way ahead clearly, making the fields nearest to him the greenest, and most attractive. You will hear from him when a much more brilliant one's exploits are forgotten. At the inception of the day the very first thing at hand is the one to take hold of and complete.

The executive's desk is a clean one, for he takes care of the thing at hand at once and then passes to the next in importance. In that beautiful and inspiring poem by Oliver Wendell Holmes called "The Chambered Nautilus" you will find this line: "Leave the low-voiced past!" There will always be enough burdens for the day at hand without taking on the extra burden of something that should have been dropped with yesterday's dying day.

The child at school who starts his day with a clean slate learns something. So may we who start our day with a clean slate, a free mind, and with the determination to take up each task in its turn and complete it in the most efficient manner that we know. The mistakes of yesterday died yesterday! Do the thing at hand—and be cheered and thrilled by it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Cook Book Story."

ABOUT DOG TRAINING

At show obedience tests I see Who trains a dog must patient be. With simple words speak each command

Until it learns to understand, And when the order it obeys, Reward with bits of food and praise.

To teach a dog what dogs should know Is plainly patient work and slow. To train a dog to heel or sit A man must give his time to it;

Be stern at times, but always fair, And give it tender love and care.

If dogs with patience can be taught To live and do the way they ought, Is not the duty just as plain For all who have a child to train? Should they the time required refuse, Lest some small selfish joy they lose?

The dog that's left the streets to stray No rule of conduct will obey. The child that is not trained at home But turned upon the streets to roam, Denied parental love and care, May stumble in the pitfalls there.

MR. TRUMAN HAS BEEN IN WHITE HOUSE 4 YEARS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Four years ago today, April 12, Harry S. Truman became President when President Roosevelt died.

When he moved into the White House, war with Germany was ending, Japan was soon to be crushed with the atom bomb, an event that changed world history.

The United Nations was created in the hope it might keep peace. Four years have shown its failure.

And in his first few months in office, the United States had to be set spinning back into peacetime ways. It was done with jolts and jerks.

Short Honeymoon

War-time controls were ripped off, some too fast. Strikes sprouted, holding up peacetime goods. The mood in Congress, as the months passed, was to ditch price controls, let prices run free. Mr. Truman warned against it.

His own Democrats were in control of Congress but, spearheaded by the Republicans, they cut the legs from under OPA. It soon died. Prices shot through the roof, bringing the country a great inflation. They're still sky-high, may be coming down a bit now.

Mr. Truman had tried a honeymoon with Congress in his early days as President. But that ended in a bust and never has been patched up. Voters, fed up with the Democrats, gave the Republicans control in 1946. It was Mr. Truman's worst defeat.

He reversed that in 1948 with his own election, biggest surprise in American political history. And the Democrats won control of Congress again.

Russian Clouds

But Congress doesn't seem to be paying much attention to his wishes, at least for things at home.

Yet, in spite of his difficulties with Congress, Americans are making more money than ever before. The land is rich, teeming with money, goods, and food.

But meanwhile the skies have darkened beyond the shores. His hopes of getting along with Russia have gone down the drain. As he watched the Russians swallow Eastern Europe, his mood hardened. He set up the Truman Doctrine: A policy of blocking Russia wherever it tries to make a thrust.

Under that policy we've helped Greece and Turkey, created the Marshall Plan for helping Western Europe, and now we've entered the Atlantic Pact with Western Europe to stop Russia with steel if need be.

As Mr. Truman goes into his fifth year in the White House, only four years away from World War II, the air is full of talk of new war. Where we go, no one knows, not even Mr. Truman.

CCNY PICKETS ARE ARRESTED

New York, April 12 (AP)—Twenty-five demonstrators were taken into custody Monday as some 200 students of the college of the city of New York picketed their campus. The students demanded suspension of two faculty members whom they accuse of anti-semitism.

Nine of the arrested students, five women and four men, were charged with disorderly conduct. No charges were placed immediately against the others. Police said they were arrested because they refused to move away from the main college entrance.

The pickets, chanting and carrying placards, took up their posts in front of various campus buildings 40 minutes before classes were to begin.

Immediately after the arrests, the strikers began chanting, "Get the cops off the campus!" Twenty police at the scene sent out a hurried call for reinforcements.

The strike was voted by the student council last Friday after a student body referendum. The council said the action protested "administrative inaction" in the cases of Prof. William E. Knickerbocker, chairman of the romance languages department, and William C. Davis, economics instructor.

Sofia, Bulgaria, April 12 (AP)—Bulgaria has rejected a British protest over the recent trial of 15 Protestant churchmen here and in turn accused Britain of "an openly unfriendly act." The rejection of the British protest was announced Saturday night. At the same time it was announced Bulgaria has protested to the United Nations against discussion in the U. N. General Assembly of religious and other freedoms in this Communist-governed country.

Theodore McAllister attended the Spring meeting of the Carlisle Presbytery in Greencastle Tuesday evening.

On Saturday a party of three gentlemen from Delaware county rode here on horseback to visit the battlefield. They were met here by three friends from Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, who rode here on their wheels.

Mrs. J. C. Copeland, of Atlantic City, N. J., is visiting Mrs. J. A. Kitzmiller.

COAL TAX BILL BEING READIED; EXPECT BATTLE

Harrisburg, April 12 (AP) — Two administration stalwarts may introduce legislation today calling for a two-cent a ton statewide coal tax.

Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., (R-Montgomery), House majority leader, said he would co-sponsor the anti-mine subsidization and fire bill with Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland).

"This is a forward-looking and constructive program for the hard-pressed people in both the anthracite and bituminous coal fields," Brunner told a reporter.

The legislation, however, already has met with behind-the-scenes opposition from coal operators. The mine owners met here recently to map out strategy to fight the coal tax legislation and, at the same time, seek exemption from local coal levies under the 1947 local tax law.

The Senate Local Government committee approved yesterday a measure to eliminate, among other things, all natural resources, including coal, as a tax base under the 1947 act. The two-year-old law permits municipalities and school districts to tax anything not already taxed by the state.

Estimate $4,000,000

With introduction of the coal tax measure in the House, the way will be left open for a hot battle on which of the two measures will survive.

The coal tax legislation is designed to raise nearly $4,000,000 a year. The money would be spent in flushing culm into abandoned mines to prevent further mine cave-ins and isolating mine fires by digging deep trenches around them.

In addition, municipalities would have a direct hand in the operations. Mine owners would be required to file with municipal bureaus copies of maps of underground operation and marking coal pillars which could not be mined because of their support value.

LABOR DEBATE STARTS APR. 26

Washington, April 12 (AP) — Congressional friends and foes of the Taft-Hartley act maneuvered today toward real action in the battle over repeal of the law.

CIO unions were under orders to drum up "additional and badly needed support" among Congressmen for the administration's labor bill. Two Republican Senators meanwhile planned extensive alterations for the measure when it hits the Senate floor.

Capitol Hill's big labor debate of 1949 is scheduled now to begin April 26 in the House. Due to a jam of business, the Senate probably will not join in the tussle until several weeks later.

The House rules committee is due to decide today or tomorrow on clearing the administration bill for floor action. (Committee meets at 2 p. m. EST).

The week-end produced two important developments: Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ives (R-N.Y.) tentatively agreed on a bundle of

Fail To Agree On Radio Frequencies

Mexico City, April 12 (AP) — The Soviet Union and the United States have refused to sign an 85-union agreement to allot short-wave frequencies.

The U. S. objected that time given her under the plan was too little, but the Soviet's reason for not signing was unclear since the conference gave her the lion's share of airspace.

Great Britain alone of the great powers agreed to the proposed division.

Three more conferences will be held to try to reach an agreement before 1952. This one dived on in failure before breaking up in failure.

Its purpose was to divide times of broadcast on the eight bands between six and 26 megacycles in such a way as to end one country's interfering with another's broadcasts.

10-DAY HOLIDAY NOW A "STRIKE"

Harrisburg, April 12 (AP) — A 10-day "work holiday" of 3,000 building trades workers on construction projects in the Harrisburg area officially became a strike Monday complete with pickets.

The strike was called Saturday after a lengthy conference when the Building Construction Employers' Association and six AFL unions failed to reach an agreement.

Harrisburg police were notified Sunday night by B. C. Stewart, president of the Harrisburg Building Trades Council, that pickets would appear at the projects in an apparent attempt to keep non-striking carpenters from working.

The carpenters voted to continue their present scale for another year amendments they plan to offer to the administration bill, and CIO President Philip Murray called for faster action on repeal of the law almost unanimously by labor unions, and branded as a "foul concoction" a proposed substitute for the administration's repealer.

USE TEAR GAS ON MUNICH MOB

Munich, Germany, April 12 (AP) — American military police used tear gas on Sunday to break up a riotous demonstration against Russia.

An estimated 10,000 persons, most of them said to be Ukrainian displaced persons, took part in the demonstration which wound up with an attempt to break into a building housing a Soviet liaison mission.

German police said the crowd was protesting "Russian persecution of churches." Many Ukrainians outside Russia have opposed the Communist regime since its inception.

The demonstration started with a mass meeting. Whipped up by two hours of oratory, most of the participants set out in an unorganized procession. They were led by seven at the present wage scale. Ralph Lyons, business agent for the union, said his 700 members would report for work but would not cross picket lines.

G. Harry Young, federal mediator, said statements of the two sides gave these present wage rates for various crafts: Carpenters, $1.82½ an hour; laborers, $1.20; plasterers and cement finishers, $2.12½; lathers, $2.25; iron workers, $2.50; teamsters, $1.32½; electricians and plumbers, $2 and painters $1.55.

The work stoppage halted several million dollars in construction here and in nearby Lebanon, Carlisle and Chambersburg. It started April 1 when contractors and the unions failed to agree on a new contract.

They got into a fight en route when they spotted some "known Communists." After the melee they continued on to the Russian mission building. The displaced persons grabbed stones from ruined buildings and stoned the Americans. Then the MP's used tear gas in routing the demonstrators.

COORDINATION OF AID ASKED

Washington, April 12 (AP) — Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said Western European re-arming proposals must be fitted into the general pattern of foreign economic and domestic defense programs.

In a statement interpreted as putting him on the side of those who think some reductions may be possible in other foreign aid and military spending, Connally called for coordination of all the programs.

"This is all one big undertaking and it ought to be arranged so that one doesn't hamper the other," the Senate foreign relations committee chairman told reporters.

Connally refused, however, to predict publicly whether it will be possible to make savings in the proposed recovery outlay or in military costs at home.

This point was raised hopefully last week by members of Congress after Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Presidential economic adviser, made remarks interpreted as indicating he opposes any increase in President Truman's $41,900,000,000 budget to meet foreign arms costs.

Mr. Truman said the proposal to furnish military supplies to other countries would be sent to Congress as a separate item. He left some doubt, however, whether other costs could be trimmed to meet the expected $1,250,000,000 foreign arms program now being discussed.

TRUMAN STARTS HIS FIFTH YEAR IN WHITE HOUSE

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, April 12 (AP)—President Truman began his fifth year in office today, convinced that the world is moving slowly but surely along the road to enduring peace.

Four years after taking over the reins of a government which has engaged in two devastating world wars, he is known to feel that the goal is at last in sight.

It can be stated authoritatively that Mr. Truman thinks another two years will bring an assurance of peace.

Turning Point in '47
The turning point in his decision was when the United States made its crucial decision two years ago to aid Greece and Turkey against the threat of Communist envelopment.

The Marshall plan with its European recovery program, and the signing of the North Atlantic Pact, he believes, are further developments in the successful march to prevent aggression.

Mr. Truman, who will be 65 next May 8, looked cheerful and well when photographers called in his office yesterday to make anniversary pictures.

He weighs 178 pounds, 11 more than he did when he was summoned to the White House April 12, 1945, to take the oath of office.

Celebrates at Luncheon
His physician, Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, thinks he's a bit "too fat." He is walking every morning before breakfast and taking regular swims in the White House pool in an effort to reduce his waistline.

Mr. Truman is celebrating his fourth anniversary as president by lunching with old colleagues on Capitol Hill at 1 p. m. EST.

During those four years, Mr. Truman has travelled over 124,438 miles, more than 65,000 of them by air. He did his greatest traveling last year—45,826 miles, 32,574 by railroad. This included his 31,500 miles of campaign travel.

It Happened Fast

It was four years ago today that he sat in the office of his old friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn, on a leisurely, story-telling afternoon.

He got a call from Stephen Early, a Roosevelt secretary, (named a few days ago by Mr. Truman as under-secretary of defense)—to hurry up to the White House.

Upon his arrival there, he was informed of Mr. Roosevelt's death in Georgia. That evening he was sworn in as President.

Almost everyone he saw he asked to "pray for me," and he told reporters that the great assignment was like having "the moon and all the stars" fall on him.

Littlestown

Littlestown—The annual Easter Egg hunt will be conducted by the Ocker Snyder post No. 321, American Legion on the Littlestown playground Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. This will be for the children of Littlestown and vicinity who are 12 years of age and under. There will be a number of prize eggs. Committee in charge of arrangements includes Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., commander; Joseph Long and Harold Krichen.

Students from the State Teachers college, Indiana, Pa., who are spending the Easter vacation at home are: Marion Bankert, daughter of Clarence O. Bankert, Prince street; Arveta Feeser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Feeser, East King street extended, and James Wehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wehler along the Gettysburg pike.

The name of Joan Shull was missed in Monday night's paper when the names were reported of those who had joined Centenary Methodist church on Sunday morning by profession of faith. Mrs. Lloyd Harner, Sr., was received on Sunday morning by letter of transfer. Holy Week services began on Monday evening. Tonight the pastor, the Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert will preach on "Resting beside a Well," which will be the second sermon in the series, "Come . . . Rest."

There were only four juveniles instead of 14 as reported in Saturday's paper, who admitted having purchased drinks in the Hill Top tavern located along the Baltimore pike in Germany township, when questioned by the four state liquor control board men; two Pennsylvania State Police and Chief of Police Leon H. Gage, who made a check up in the tavern on Friday evening about 10:30 o'clock.

A preparatory service will be conducted tonight at 7:30 o'clock

On Murder's Skirts
By Terry Adler

Chapter 22
"No," she whispered. "No, I don't—I can't believe it—that someone would want to poison me!"

"Ellen"—his voice was urgent—"don't you think we ought to let the police know right away?" She bit her lip. "But you promised!" she begged.

Finally she nodded her head wearily. "You're probably right. But don't call them right away. Wait just until morning. I think I'd like to tell Mrs. Bray what's in store for her first. And nothing more will happen until morning."

"Okay, Ellen, if you say so." He looked at her, scrutinizing her face with some concern.

"How would you like to get into some clothes and go up to Hubbard's office?"

She dashed into the bedroom. It was eight minutes later when she came out. Under her coat she had on black corduroy slacks and a soft green turtle-neck sweater. Green fuzzy ear-muffs covered her ears.

"Have you got the key to the inner office?" he asked.

"Right here." She handed him the key. They went out, locking the door behind them.

Fresh snow had fallen and sparkled under the street lights. The drive to the campus took only seven minutes.

"We'll take this flashlight," Raff said. "No sense putting the big light on and announcing to the whole campus what we're doing."

They walked through the soft snow and Ellen unlocked the main front door of the building.

They walked down the hall quickly and through Ellen's office to the door leading to Hubbard's inner office.

Raff took the key Ellen had given him earlier and fitted it into the keyhole. The key turned easily. He turned the knob but the door remained shut. He frowned and turned the key again. The door opened easily.

"This door wasn't shut," Raff told her.

"That is peculiar," said Ellen. "I don't know who could have unlocked it."

"Who else has a key?"

"No one. I told you that this afternoon. No one but Dr. Hubbard and the janitor."

"Bray must have had one," he reminded her.

"Yes, that's right. That never occurred to me before. He must have had one in order to have gotten in here that Sunday night."

"How about Fenton?"

"Oh, Dr. Fenton doesn't have one, I know." She spoke as if convinced. "How did you get this key?" he asked.

"The janitor," she replied laconically. "Simple, wasn't it?"

"Too simple!" he snorted. "I wonder how many others have taken advantage of this idea before. You can have a duplicate key made any place in town for fifty cents."

Ellen was excited. "Well, say! All we have to do is ask the janitor to tell us who borrowed his key recently."

"Good idea, Ellen. But since we're here, let's take a look around first."

He moved the flashlight in his hand. "You know this room. Does it look as if anything has been disturbed?"

"No," she said, "everything looks the way it always did."

She stopped before the chemical shelf. Mechanically she reached for a bottle.

"This bottle doesn't belong here," she muttered, and about it back in its place.

"What bottle?"

"This one." She handed him the bottle, still mystified by his savage action. "What's so important about it?"

He grabbed the bottle from her. The label showed a list of chemical compounds.

"How do you know it was out of line?" he demanded.

"My goodness, don't bark at me."

"I'm sorry. But how did you know?"

"Well, I know the cleaning women were in here on Wednesday morning. Remember, I told you that. And they always dust the chemicals and arrange the bottles according to size. And this big bottle was out here by all the little ones when it obviously belongs in this space back here."

She looked at him curiously. "That stuff isn't poisonous, is it?"

"Do you remember telling me that Hubbard used to keep an electric heater going in this room?"

"Yes," she said. "There it is over in the corner."

"And did he keep the windows closed?"

"Yes, almost always. Especially in the winter."

"And was he a sound sleeper?"

"Yes, I'd say he was a pretty sound sleeper. But why all these questions?"

He sighed. "You see, my dear child," he said with exaggerated patience, "it would be a simple matter for anyone with a key to get into the office and pour some of this mixture onto the red hot wires of the heater."

"Well, so what happens? Does that make phosgene?"

He nodded. "The mixture of chemicals in that bottle makes phosgene. And that makes murder."

"But, ye Gods! Wouldn't the chief have smelled the stuff? Wouldn't he have coughed, or something?"

"The odor of phosgene," and I quote from the Army Index to Chemical Warfare is, quite, 'similar to that of new mown hay' unquote. I don't imagine anyone would find that too unpleasant on a cold, wintry day."

"But then why didn't they—the one who did it—why didn't he die the way Dr. Hubbard did?"

"I imagine he must have held his breath while he poured the stuff on and then gone out immediately, closing the door. There would have been enough of the gas generated so that anyone breathing it for, say, ten minutes would get a fatal dose."

"So Dr. Hubbard really was murdered."

"The answer is yes. As it turns out, Bray wasn't talking through his hat. And that's why he paid for it with his life."

FORRESTAL IS "EXHAUSTED"

Washington, April 12 (AP)—James Forrestal, hospitalized former secretary of defense, "is terribly exhausted in every way," his son said today.

Navy physicians said yesterday that the 57-year-old official, who retired at the end of last month, is suffering "occupational fatigue," which is "directly the result of excessive work during the war and postwar years."

His son Michael, 21, said his father must have plenty of rest. "He hasn't been eating properly because he was too tired," he said.

Forrestal has been in the Naval Medical Center at nearby Bethesda, Md., for 11 days. He was flown there from Florida, where he had gone for a vacation after giving up his government post.

A bulletin issued by the hospital yesterday said Forrestal showed symptoms "characteristically seen in states of exhaustion" and added: "The only psychiatric symptoms present are those associated with a state of excessive fatigue."

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) told the House that radio commentator Drew Pearson on his ABC broadcast Sunday night made a "vicious attack" on Forrestal. Rankin did not say what Pearson said, but the Congressman announced he was going to ask the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to "prevent such inhuman abuses" in the future.

(Dispatches from Moscow said excerpts from Pearson's broadcast have been picked up and are being used for propaganda purposes by the Russians.)

"But I am surprised. I thought everyone uses them. Even in my country we have them." He surrendered the syringe without a protest.

Raff squirted some of the fluid onto his finger. Ellen watched him with growing horror. He tasted it. It was plain common salt. Verek looked as if he thought Raff was mad.

Verek turned to go and bowed to Ellen.

"Good night. It is good to see people happy. See, I almost forgot about the tragedy this morning. A pity—a real pity." He shook his head mournfully.

Raff was struck with a sudden thought. "Tell me, Doctor, were you working on the guinea pigs last night?"

"Last night? But of course. Every night I have worked on the experiment."

"Tell me, Dr. Verek, did you by any chance come up to make an injection at midnight last night?"

"Exactly midnight? No. Last night I made injections at nine-fifteen and the last one at six-fifteen." Verek counted these off on his fingers as he talked.

"Was Dr. Bray here at twelve-fifteen when you came up?"

"No. At least I did not see him then. I saw him earlier, at nine-fifteen. He seemed very happy."

"Was he the only one here?"

"Yes. No, wait a minute. I think Bill Griffith was here, too. I did not look." Verek sighed. "What a tragedy. And he wasn't such an old man, either." He held out his hand to Raff. "Good night, Dr. Rafferty. We must come together some time. It will be good to talk of research."

Raff held out his hand and found he was still clutching the small dark object he had picked up from Hubbard's chair. It was a pen. He turned it in his hand. It bore the initials "H. P."

"Ah," said Verek, "you have found Dr. Fenton's pen. He will be most happy. He was looking for it this afternoon."

DONORA WOMAN WINS 'JACKPOT'

Donora, Pa., April 12 (AP)—What would you do if you won an 8,000-pound elephant? For Mrs. Freda Perry, wife of a Donora steelworker, that question is far from academic today.

Mrs. Perry won a circus elephant and other prizes totaling $23,600 on Sunday night for correctly identifying an old English tune—"St. Paul's Steeple"—on the American Broadcasting Company's "Stop the Music" program.

Mrs. Perry and her husband, who earns $75 a week in the American Steel and Wire Company plant, have been married three years. They do not have any children.

Mrs. Perry and her husband were tickled pink about the prizes—including a new automobile, new wardrobes, trips to London, New York and the Kentucky Derby, a fur coat once worn by Motion Picture Star Claudette Colbert, a $3,000 diamond ring, and a $1,000 investment in a Broadway show.

HORSE DIES IN FIRE

Ephrata, Pa., April 12 (AP)—A blaze that swept an old stable on Sunday destroyed Tam O'Shanter, a three-gaited show mare, Lloyd C. Moore, the owner, said he would not place a value on the horse because of sentimental value. About $1,500 worth of show tack was destroyed. Tam O'Shanter was shown in Pennsylvania and neighboring state horse shows by the owner's daughter, Marian.

Washington, April 12 (AP)—A half billion dollar cut in Veterans' Administration funds highlighted a $7,576,886.231 multi-agency money bill approved Monday by the House Appropriations committee. The bill carries funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for 28 so-called independent agencies, including $5-145,431,940 for the Veterans' Administration and $1,090,120,397 for the Atomic Energy Commission.

PSYCHIATRY FOR YOUNG CHILDREN IS SUGGESTED

Philadelphia, April 12 (AP)—Preventive psychiatry, for young children, to reduce the number of mental cases in later life, was proposed today by Dr. Morris Fishbein.

He made the proposal to the mental hospital institute of the American Psychiatric association, which is holding a five-day meeting. Dr. Fishbein is editor of the Journal of the American Medical association and is American medicine's best-known spokesman.

"Neither this nation, nor any other," he said, "can pay for adequate care for the constantly rising number of mental cases. The number goes up and up. 'Somewhere along the line you will have to initiate preventive psychiatry.' There is nowhere any large scale prevention for insanity at present. But doctors and scientists have laid a foundation by discovering many of the stresses of life that cause minds to go wrong. Much of this has been noted among children.

"I suggest," said Dr. Fishbein, "that we begin teaching mental hygiene to children as soon as we can begin teaching them anything. As soon as a child can learn to wash his face."

To back this up Dr. Fishbein said that 47 per cent of the inmates of hospitals in the United States today are mental cases.

"You psychiatrists," he said, "can consider mental cases the number one medical problem. What you must have is not just a campaign to educate the public, but a crusading campaign, of the sort to cause the people to rise in their wrath to back measures to stamp out mental troubles."

One writer says consumption of wine in ancient Rome at one time reached 25 million gallons a year. The Treasury Department now collects nearly 2½ billion dollars a year in taxes on alcohol.
